PRESS RELEASE

Here is your ticket to a trip down memory lane! "Come on along and listen to the Lullabye of Broadway".

It is said that music is the soul of any society—and that theatre reflects life. Lorraine Masure, a former University of Maine System Administrator and current Osher Lifelong Learning Institute (OLLI) instructor will take you to "The Great White Way" as she shares the history behind some of Broadway's most memorable musicals. This Friends program is free to attend, and refreshments are also included!
